Buckthorn is a highly invasive species that was brought to the United States from Europe. This plant outcompetes native forest plants that are better able to provide food and shelter for local wildlife. MN Master Naturalists, Conservation MN, Enrichment Operation, NW RSDP, and Red River Health are hosting a buckthorn removal event to give our native species a chance to regrow in our local woodlands. Please contact xxx for more information. Snacks will be provided. Please wear sturdy, close-toed shoes, work clothes, and gloves. Long pants and a long-sleeved shirt recommended.
